2. There is no legal objection to the employment of [REDACTED] provided that his services as a lecturer are separate and distinct from the duties required of him in his full time employment by the Department of the Air Force, and provided that his lectures at CIA do not interfere with the performance of his Air Force duties.

STATINTL

3. We are assuming that [REDACTED] will not perform administrative duties with this Agency. We are also assuming that Dr. [REDACTED] will prepare his lectures on his own time while away from his Air Force position. If so, there is no legal objection to the payment of compensation for the preparation of his lectures. We have been informed that [REDACTED] will be in a Leave Without Pay status during the time he lectures for CIA. Consequently, there is no legal objection to the payment of compensation for the delivery of such lectures.
